Size: 4.6 MB

Mark: 29 / 30

Comments: Very well done. You have an excellent handle on PHP and it shows with the efficiency of your code. You met the requirements, which is an excellent mark for keeping clients happy with your work. I like your organization and code comments. It will stand you in good stead when working on a team project. Thank you.

Rubric	Points (out of 3)	Notes
Code Readability	3	Your code is readable.
Syntax Errors	2	When you changed your root folder, you forgot to change your associated headers so the application would continue to function.
Logic Errors	3	Your logic is good
Requirements	3	You have met all the requirements of the assignment. I like your use of the agent object to create a prepared statement. Well Done!
Naming Standards	3	You have good naming standards
Design	3	When creating an application normally your navigation would all stay on the same page, but your application opens a new page every time we move. When using links to pages that are not a part of our application this is common to open a new tab, but this should not happen when navigating inside your own application. This is just notes above, as it is more of an html issue I did not deduct a point.. I like how your code is organized and the use of sub-folders.
Documentation	3	You have good documentation in your code
File Submission	3	Your file was submitted on time.
Introduction	3	Your code is well identified
Filename	3	You have a good file name for the assignment.
